Plant Care

Sunlight Need

Bougainvillea thrives in full sun to partial shade. Ensure it receives at least 5-6 hours of sunlight daily for optimal growth.

Watering

The plant prefers moderate watering. Allow the topsoil to dry out before watering again to prevent root rot.

Soil

A well-draining soil mix is ideal for Bougainvillea to prevent waterlogging.

Repotting

Repot your Bougainvillea when it outgrows its current pot or once every two years.

Common Problems and Remedies

Wilting

If your Bougainvillea's leaves are wilting, it may be due to overwatering or poor drainage. Ensure your plant is in well-draining soil and reduce watering frequency.

Yellow Leaves

This could be a sign of nutrient deficiency. Feed your Bougainvillea with a balanced fertiliser to restore its health.

Lack of Blooms

Insufficient sunlight is often the cause. Move your plant to a brighter location to encourage blooming.
